

GrowCanada® 2018, Canada's premier agricultural conference, will provide an opportunity for two exceptional students to bring their insights to some of the world's most important agriculture and food companies. These two leaders will have the opportunity to provide closing comments after every session, to over 500 delegates.

BE A FUTURE INFLUENCER

APPLY NOW!

WIN

WITH

- Trip to Ottawa
- Learn firsthand about the agriculture industry
- Make valuable connections in agriculture

2016 Future Influencers with Clara Hughes

Date and location: November 27 to 29, 2018, Ottawa, Ontario.

Who is eligible? Confident and enthusiastic students in grade 11 or 12 or students studying at an agricultural college or university who are comfortable with public speaking.

Contest details: The cost of conference registration, travel to Ottawa and accommodation for the two winners (and their chaperones, if applicable) will be covered.

HOW TO ENTER

Submit a 500-word essay, or video essay, which answers the following question:

With limited arable land and a growing global population, farmers are turning to technology to increase the efficiency of their operations. What existing (or potential) technology do you think will impact agriculture the most as we head into the next agricultural revolution?

2017 Future Influencers

Send your application to ksabourin@seedinnovation.ca at CSTA by Friday, October 19, 2018. Successful applicants will be contacted for a phone interview in late October.

For more information, visit:

seedinnovation.ca/future-influencers

growcanadaconference.ca

or contact Kim Sabourin: ksabourin@seedinnovation.ca.