

Tin Can Creatures

Supplies Needed

- tin cans
- DecoArt Patio paint
- sponge brushes
- colored floral wire (find it at the Dollar Tree)
- ice pick
- rubber mallet
- googly eyes
- hot glue gun
- Branch/stick

First, paint the tin cans with the Patio paint. You could make a ladybug, bumblebee, dragonfly, and mystery bug.

Next, use the ice pick to put holes in the cans, be careful and use a vise if you have one. Put the holes near the bottom of the can. You just need one for the wings and one directly opposite it for the post to stick them in the garden.

The wings might be a little challenge. Recommend keeping the wire in the spiral shape as much as possible.

Add a tail for your dragonfly and be sure to pull his wings out so they are more oblong than circular. THE EYES DON'T FORGET THE EYES!

Now insert branch/stick it into the bottom hole and place your bug in the garden.
